CHS Class of 2008

CLASS OF 2008

"How you respond to the challenge in the second half will determine what you become after the game,
whether you are a winner or a loser."

MR. MAC

MR. LEONARD

MRS. BERMAN

DEDICATION

MR. MAG

Mr. Mag is known for his personal mantra "science is a verb". For the past 34 years he has been [illegible] and belief of knowledge for his students. His love of science is clearly apparent in his [illegible] and lesson plans. Any one who has had him at least once is familiar with his classical anecdotes. Regardless of what you're talking about Mr. Mag always has a story to go with it, no matter how obscure it is. And even though he is only "Big David" in Peru, he will always stand tall in all of his innocence eyes. —Meagan Hoakley

Mr. Mag has sparked my interest in the sciences. His hands on teaching style and caring nature creates a nurturing environment in which to learn. The Science Department will have a difficult time filling Mr. Magnusson's metaphorical shoes. —James Van Etten

Personable, helpful, and kind, Mr. Leonard will truly be missed. His upbeat personality and honest care for his students makes him a man to be remembered. He made our high school years awesome and a hell of a lot easier so thank you for everything Mr. Leonard, we love you!
— Jessica Williams

It is only fitting that we write a letter of commendation for our gifted and talented counselor extraordinaire, Ed he learned [illegible]. Mr. Leonard does indeed leave a legacy of dowtice, smoothy, truer and bonus that is without equal. Always a student advocate, a mediator with sensitivity and wisdom, Mr. Leonard was the biggest professional and personal goal for himself and others. The many students and faculty he has mentored over the years know full well the difference he has made in their lives. He remains yet with genuine care in the entire [illegible] community with the best interest of students at the heart of all of his efforts. We have been blessed with his presence for the past 34 years and he will be truly missed by all. —Dave Varner

MRS. BERMAN

She works informally and have asked what was the definition of a good person. A good person she thought, was someone who helped others without receiving anything back. Christine Berman is the embodiment of a good person. Over the years, she has written endless recommendations and given up her [illegible] personal time to help students and faculty. She is both the lion and the lamb and chutzpah is the absolute adjective to describe her. —Elizabeth Sheridan

The only thing that surpasses Mrs. Berman's teaching abilities is her kindness. She genuinely cares about her students and will do anything to see them succeed. Her sense of humor and dedication to her job makes her an amazing member. —Nina Foley

FAREWELL, LADY BIRD

The world said goodbye to Claudia Alta Taylor, a.k.a. Lady Bird Johnson, at the age of 94. Lady Bird was known for her role as the quintessential political wife. She campaigned tirelessly alongside her husband and even used her inheritance funds to assist with his bid for political office. After Lyndon Baines Johnson became the nation's 36th president, Lady Bird worked as an advocate for the beautification of America and the Head Start program.

ROVE RESIGNS

President Bush's long-time political adviser announced his resignation and left the White House in August 2007. Karl Rove was the latest in a string of administration resignations following the Democratic takeover in Congress. Rove's departure from the White House came as a result of Chief of Staff Josh Bolten's request for staffers to resign before Labor Day or commit to serving through the end of Bush's term.

QUEEN ELIZABETH HITS MILESTONE

Britain's Queen Elizabeth II became the country's oldest reigning monarch when she surpassed the record set by her great-great grandmother Queen Victoria. Victoria lived 81 years and 243 days, and Elizabeth surpassed that record. However, the longest-serving monarch record still belonged to Queen Victoria, who reigned for nearly 64 years. Queen Elizabeth has served for 55 years since her coronation in 1952.

SANCTIONS FOR SECURITY

According to Iranian President Mahmoud Ahmadinejad, Iran's nuclear weapon development was a closed issue. However, despite repeated demands from the U.N. Security Council, Iran did not suspend enrichment of uranium. The council responded by imposing increased sanctions on Tehran for its refusal to comply. Iran maintained that its nuclear program was aimed only toward generating electricity.

LEAD SCARE RAISES CONCERN

Chinese products fell under scrutiny after potentially dangerous levels of chemicals and toxins were found in a variety of products, ranging from pet food to children's toys. Mattel was forced to recall millions of toys made in China; other products under investigation included shrimp, commercial steel, lipstick, and Boy Scout badges. Ultimately, American companies were held responsible for the quality of their products in the marketplace, but monitoring quality was an enormous task due to the prevalence of Chinese products in the United States.

TRAGEDY IN MINNESOTA

On August 1, 2007, the unthinkable happened in Minneapolis when the Interstate 35W bridge collapsed during rush hour. The 1,907-foot bridge fell into the Mississippi River and onto roadways below in less than 4 seconds. As a result, there were 145 injured and 13 lives lost. The National Transportation Safety Board (NTSB) released its first report in December, revealing that a design error resulted in undersized gusset plates for the truss bridge, which was first opened in 1967. The bridge collapse prompted an increased number of safety inspections for bridges nationwide.

SALES SLUMP

The housing market continued to battle tough times when sales by homeowners hit a record low in October. Economists pointed to the excess supply of homes on the market and adjustable rate mortgages as reasons for the slump. In December, President George W. Bush and policy makers responded by cutting the federal funds rate for the third time that year.

U.N. TROOPS TO AID DARFUR

The United Nations Security Council authorized calling up to 26,000 troops and police to supplement the 7,000 African Union force in Sudan's Darfur region. The combined United Nations-African Union operation aimed to help solve over four years of conflict in Darfur. More than 200,000 people have been killed and 2.5 million have been displaced due to the unrest and fighting in the area.

BHUTTO ASSASSINATED

Pakistan opposition leader Benazir Bhutto was assassinated after a campaign rally. Bhutto's assassination occurred just weeks before the country was to hold a parliamentary election in which she was hoping to win a third term of leadership. Bhutto, who led Pakistan from 1988 to 1990 and again from 1993 to 1996, was the first female prime minister of any Islamic state. Bhutto had been the target of several assassination attempts by Al Qaeda, the Taliban and Pakistani jihad groups.

BROWN PROMISES CHANGE

After more than a decade in power, Prime Minister Tony Blair turned over No. 10 Downing Street to the new British Prime Minister, Gordon Brown. The former treasury chief promised a "new government with new priorities." The Prime Minister's call for reform included changes in international institutions to reflect the new global society and the rise of Asia.

DEMOCRACY DEFENDER DIES

Boris Yeltsin will be remembered as the man who brought democratic reform to Russia by ending over 70 years of Soviet Communism. The former Russian President died on April 23, 2007, of heart failure at the age of 76. Yeltsin won international acclaim when he stood on top of a tank in Moscow during a coup attempt against Soviet President Mikhail Gorbachev.

THE LONG RACE

The 2008 presidential campaign made headlines before a final candidate was even selected. The race for the presidency was already in full swing as of early 2007, which made it the longest election race in history. A variety of candidates made their bids for the White House, as Americans waited to hit the polls on November 4.

MORE MPGS

President George W. Bush signed an energy bill that updated automotive fuel economy standards for the first time in more than three decades. The new law required a corporate average of 35 miles per gallon (mpg) by the year 2020. It also boosted federal support for alternative fuel research and energy conservation efforts. The previous fuel economy standards, 27.5 mpg for passenger cars and 22.2 mpg for light trucks, were established in 1975.

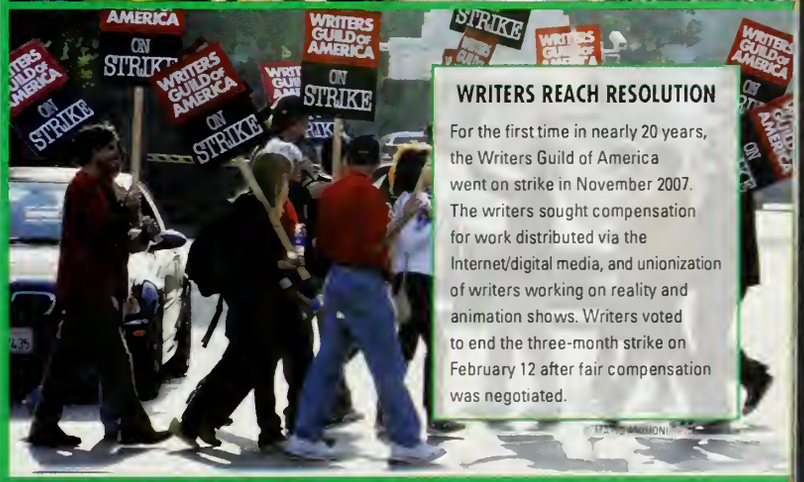
IRAQ UPDATE

In September, U.S. commander in Iraq, Gen. David Petraeus, announced that military goals of reduced killings in Baghdad and nationwide had been met. Yet, Iraqi ground forces requested U.S. forces to remain in place for the foreseeable future to help control internal security and to defend the nation from external threat. The United States has been at war in Iraq since March of 2003.

CALIFORNIA SCORCHED

Nearly two dozen wildfires raged in the Los Angeles, San Diego and San Bernardino areas of California. The blazes, which were fueled by the Santa Ana winds, caused at least 500,000 people to flee their homes and resulted in the largest evacuation in state history. The fires claimed the lives of 14 people and racked up over $2.2 billion in damage costs.



WRITERS REACH RESOLUTION

For the first time in nearly 20 years, the Writers Guild of America went on strike in November 2007. The writers sought compensation for work distributed via the Internet/digital media, and unionization of writers working on reality and animation shows. Writers voted to end the three-month strike on February 12 after fair compensation was negotiated.

HONORS FOR AIRMEN

President Bush and Congress awarded the Tuskegee Airmen the Congressional Gold Medal, for fighting to defend their country even as they faced bigotry at home. Hundreds of pilots saw combat throughout Europe, the Mediterranean and North Africa when they escorted bomber aircraft on missions and protected them from the enemy during World War II.

PUTIN IS PERSON OF THE YEAR

Time magazine has named Vladimir Putin its 2007 Person of the Year. When Vladimir Vladimirovich Putin took over as President of Russia in 2000, he found a country in chaos. With a sharp vision of what Russia should become and dauntless persistence to restore stability, Putin has put his country back on the map.

CELEBRATED OPERA SUPERSTAR

Fans bid farewell to opera's best-known superstar of the late 20th century on September 6, 2007. Luciano Pavarotti died at the age of 71 in his native home of Modena, Italy. He was undergoing treatment for pancreatic cancer that was diagnosed earlier in 2006. The beloved superstar was one of the few opera singers to win crossover fame. Pavarotti publicly performed his last aria, "Nessun Dorma," at the opening ceremony of the 2006 Winter Olympics in Turin, Italy.

TOP AUTOMAKER POSTS LOSS

General Motors Corp. reported one of the largest losses ever for an automotive company. GM lost $38.7 billion in 2007, despite record revenues from its automotive business due to growth in emerging markets and favorable exchange rates. The automaker's large loss was the result of a third-quarter charge related to unused tax credits. GM narrowly held onto its title as the world's largest automaker; in 2007 it sold just 3,000 more vehicles than Toyota Motor Corp.

HIGHER MINIMUM WAGE

For the first time in a decade, a minimum wage increase was announced. Over a period of two years, the minimum wage increased from the previous minimum of $5.15 an hour to $7.25 an hour in 2009. The bill included $4.84 billion in tax breaks for small businesses to provide support for the wage increase. As of late 2007, the Economic Policy Institute estimated that 4 percent of the work force or 5.6 million workers earned less than $7.25 an hour.

MURDOCH BUYS DOW JONES

After a four-month struggle with the Bancroft family, Rupert Murdoch acquired his top prize, Dow Jones & Company, publisher of the venerable Wall Street Journal. Murdoch's acquisition of Dow Jones was an impressive addition to his $70 billion media empire that included more than 100 newspapers worldwide, satellite broadcast operations, the FOX television network and the online social networking site MySpace. Murdoch paid over $5 billion for Dow Jones & Company, which had been owned by the Bancroft family since 1902.

DOLLAR DIPS

The U.S. dollar hit a record low against the euro in November 2007. The outgoing manager of the International Monetary Fund cautioned that an abrupt fall could trigger a loss of confidence in U.S. dollar assets throughout the global market. As rumors of a U.S. recession circulated, investors kept a watchful eye on markets worldwide.

MCCANN MYSTERY CONTINUES

After almost a year of investigation, the disappearance of 4-year-old Madeleine McCann remains unsolved. The British girl vanished in May 2007 from her family's hotel room at a southern Portuguese resort. Several suspects were named, including her parents, but no formal charges were made.

TOXIC TRAILERS

U.S. Health officials advised the removal of Gulf Coast hurricane victims from government-issue trailer homes due to toxic formaldehyde levels within the dwellings. Tests revealed fume levels up to 40 times the customary exposure. Indoor air temperature was a significant factor in elevated formaldehyde levels—the U.S. Center for Disease Control and Prevention recommended the relocation of residents before summer.

JONES ADMITS STEROID USE

In October 2007, five-time Olympic medalist Marion Jones admitted to using steroids in order to boost her winning performances. As a result, she was stripped of her honors and suspended from track and field competition for two years. In January 2008, Federal Judge Kenneth Karas sentenced Jones to six months in prison for lying to investigators about using performance-enhancing drugs and her role in a check-fraud scam.

TORNADOES SLAM SOUTH

Fanfare surrounding the Super Tuesday primaries was tainted by storms that ripped through the South and killed at least 57 people in several states, including Alabama, Arkansas, Kentucky and Tennessee. The rare winter storm, which spawned destructive twisters, was one of the deadliest in history for the month of February. As the extent of the lives lost and massive damage became clear, presidential candidates paid their respects to the victims.

GOODBYE TO MERV GRIFFIN

Entertainer and businessman Merv Griffin lost his battle with prostate cancer at the age of 82. Griffin, the inventor of popular game shows Jeopardy! and Wheel of Fortune, started his entertainment career as a radio singer earning $100 per week. He moved on to talk show fame as host of The Merv Griffin Show, which lasted over 20 years. After selling the rights to his game shows, Griffin built a multi-million dollar empire comprised of resorts and casinos.

CASTRO CALLS IT QUITS

After 49 years in power, Fidel Castro announced his official resignation as president of Cuba and chief of the Cuban military. When Castro was 32, he captured the world's attention by gathering guerillas to overthrow a dictatorship in 1959. He ruled Cuba with an iron fist and adopted a communist regime. After 81-year-old Castro formally relinquished his post, it was announced that Castro's brother and Cuba's defense minister Raúl Castro would be the new Cuban leader.

BLU-RAY WINS BATTLE

Sony's Blu-ray won the format battle over Toshiba's HD DVD. Several factors contributed to Blu-ray's triumph, but movie studios and American retailers played a decisive role. In January, Warner Bros. Entertainment joined Sony Pictures, Walt Disney Co., and Twentieth Century Fox in a commitment to only release movies in Blu-ray format. Retailers such as Target Corp., Wal-Mart Stores Inc., Blockbuster Inc., and Netflix Inc. also opted to sell only Blu-ray DVDs and hardware.

KOSOVO DECLARES INDEPENDENCE

February 17, 2008, marked the day Kosovo declared its independence, sparking protests in Serbia. Russia emerged as Serbia's strongest ally in the opposition of Kosovo's independence, while the United States and most European countries supported Kosovo's declaration. Russian Deputy Prime Minister Dmitry Medvedev and Serbian Minister for Kosovo Slobodan Samardzic vocalized their disapproval.

MISSILE TARGETS SPY SATELLITE

In an unprecedented mission for the U.S. Navy, a missile was launched in February 2008 to intercept and destroy a disabled spy satellite. The satellite weighed about 5,000 pounds and was nearly the size of a school bus. Pentagon officials were concerned about the health hazards posed to humans if the satellite crashed in a populated area. The missile collided with the satellite at a combined speed of over 17,000 miles per hour 130 miles above Earth's surface.

RUSSIA HOSTS WINTER 2014

Russia's Black Sea city of Sochi was honored as host of the 2014 Winter Olympics. Russian President Vladimir Putin cited Sochi's unique combination of spring-like weather and guaranteed Caucasus mountain snow, which made the city an ideal host for Russia's first-ever Winter Olympic Games celebration. Jubilant crowds in Sochi's central square celebrated the announcement with fireworks and joyous cheering.

VIRGINIA TECH TRAGEDY

In the deadliest shooting rampage by an individual in U.S. history, Seung-Hui Cho killed 32 people on the Virginia Tech campus. After killing two fellow students in his dormitory, Cho proceeded to shoot and kill 30 students and professors in a classroom building before taking his own life. The catastrophic event at Virginia Tech prompted colleges nationwide to reassess their campus emergency response systems.

USDA RECALLS BEEF

In February 2008, the United States Department of Agriculture recalled 143 million pounds of frozen beef for the largest meat recall in U.S. history. The California slaughterhouse, which provided meat to school lunch programs, was under investigation for the mistreatment of cattle at the time of the recall. The incident prompted demands for stronger enforcement of food safety regulations.

UNDERDOG BECOMES TOP DOG

For the first time in the history of the Westminster Dog Show, a beagle took top honors. The winner of the 132nd Westminster Kennel Club Dog Show in New York was a 3-year-old beagle named Uno. The famous beagle, along with his handler Aaron Wilkerson, won Best in Show before a sold-out crowd at Madison Square Garden where more than 169 dog breeds were represented.

WORLD DISCOVERIES

FATAL SUPERBUG

As of 2007, more than 90,000 Americans each year contracted potentially fatal staph infections from a drug-resistant "superbug." The bug was called methicillin-resistant staphylococus, or MRSA, and its bacteria was carried by healthy people where it lived on their skin or in their noses. It raised concerns because it became more common and it was resistant to penicillin. Without a vaccine for the superbug, the number of deaths caused by it each year could surpass the number of fatalities caused by the AIDS virus.

PANDA POOP TO PAPER

Chinese researchers from the Chengdu Giant Panda Breeding Base learned how to transform a two-ton daily load of panda waste into paper. The idea originated during a visit to Thailand, when they saw paper made from elephant dung. The researchers thought that their 40 bamboo-fed pandas, which produce about two tons of waste per day, could make an even finer paper. Their next step was finding paper mills to process their fiber-rich material into high quality paper.

MONSTER OF THE DEEP

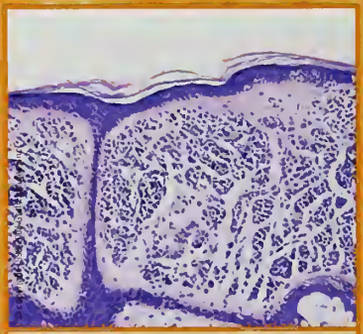
English scientists shared their discovery of an 18-inch fossilized claw that was part of an ancient sea monster. The "monster" was believed to be an 8-foot-long sea scorpion that lived 390 million years ago, and it was the largest of its kind ever found. The scorpions were dominant for millions of years before larger fish stole their reign of the deep seas.

THAT'S CLAMTASTIC!

The record for the longest-living animal went to a quahog clam that was found off the coast of Iceland. The 405-year-old quahog clam, nicknamed "Ming" after the Chinese dynasty that ruled at the time of its birth, broke the record previously held by a 374-year-old clam. That was one mighty mollusk!

KING TUT REVEALED

Eighty-five years after the discovery of King Tutankhamun's 3,000-year-old mummy, Tut's face was unveiled for the first time in 2007. The pharaoh's mummified body was displayed for the public in a climate-controlled glass box to protect it from the damaging effects of humidity. The traveling Tut exhibit drew more than 4 million people during a four-city United States tour, and it increased tourism in Egypt as well—there were over 9 million visitors last year.



SKIN CELLS TO THE RESCUE

Research groups from Kyoto University and the University of Wisconsin in Madison have discovered two different genetic recipes that give ordinary human skin cells the power to turn into virtually any kind of human tissue. With this capability, a person's own skin cells could be used to mend a broken spinal cord or repair heart damage. The scientists behind this amazing discovery warned that actual use of the skin cells was still years away, but the breakthrough was a "tremendous scientific milestone."

FUEL ALTERNATIVE

Shell Oil and German biofuel company Choren Industries planned the European launch of a new road fuel called Sunfuel for late 2007. This new fuel was made from wood chips and straw, and its program pilot for synthetic diesel was expected to shift the industry. The projected change involved using plant material waste instead of valuable food crops to create fuel. Sunfuel's cost was more than the price of oil, but Shell spokesmen expected the price to come down as production volume increased.

PURPOSEFUL APPENDIX

A team of surgeons and specialists at Duke University Medical School proposed a purpose for the appendix. The small organ, located at the beginning of the large intestine, was found to be a storage place for helpful bacteria. The shape of the appendix, as well as focused studies, supported the hypothesis that the appendix's function is to store and supply healthy protective bacteria for the digestive system.

CATCH OF THE DAY

New Zealand fishermen hauled in a colossal catch when they captured the largest squid ever seen. The Colossal Squid (Mesonychoteuthis hamiltoni) weighed over half a ton and measured 33 feet in length. The enormous squid specimen was caught in the Ross Sea near Antarctica, just as it was finishing off a meal of Patagonian toothfish.

STEGER EXPLORES WARMING ARCTIC

In May 2007, Will Steger completed his expedition to the Canadian Arctic to investigate retreating glaciers and other signs of climate change, as well as how the changes affect Inuit people. Steger targeted "emerging leaders" to join his expedition because he wanted the expedition results to reach young people. The team included two Americans, two Norwegians, a Canadian and a British person.

VITAMIN D CRAVING

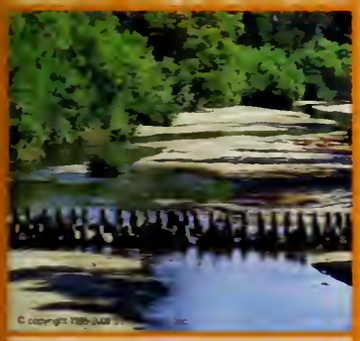
The "sunshine vitamin," otherwise known as vitamin D, was found to improve optimal health for humans. Sunlight triggers the human body to produce vitamin D, and most tissues and cells have receptors for the vitamin. A lack of vitamin D was linked to various cancers, tuberculosis, schizophrenia, multiple sclerosis, hip fractures, and chronic pain.

MIGHTY MOUSE

Paleontologists found the nearly complete fossilized skull of a giant prehistoric rat in Uruguay. Based on an analysis of its 21-inch-long skull, the rodent was estimated to weigh between 1 and 2.5 tons—about the size of a hippopotamus. Mighty Mouse, as the Josephoartigasia monesi specimen had been nicknamed, was a major find for researchers studying giant South American rodents.

DOUBLE CLONED BURGER

The Food and Drug Administration declared that meat and milk from cloned cattle, pigs and goats are safe to eat, which made the United States the first country to approve cloned food for consumption. The agency announced that it would not require food from clones to be labeled in the marketplace. The FDA awaited the public response to its news before moving forward; a 2006 survey documented that 64 percent of Americans are uncomfortable with animal cloning.



ARID OUTBACK

For the seventh year, Australia faced what has been called the country's worst drought in a millennium. Drinking-water reserves dipped to record lows across the country and billboards posted alarming consumption statistics. Experts warned that many nations around the world may have to adapt to less water. In response, conservation incentives and water recycling programs were implemented throughout Australia and served as an example for other countries.

NET CAPTURES NEW SPECIES

The Philippines added a new bat species to its list of 74 native species, 24 of which can only be found in the Philippines. The Mindoro Stripe-Faced Fruitbat was discovered when it was accidentally captured in a net. The orange bat, with a distinctive white-striped face, was found on an island south of Manila. Researchers from the University of Kansas and the Comparative Biogeography and Conservation of Philippine Vertebrates (CBCPV) were responsible for the discovery.

GECKO GLUE

With the help of geckos, biomedical engineers and scientists at Northwestern University invented glue that works like the adhesive on Post-it® notes, but can also work on wet surfaces. The glue was named Geckel because the sticking properties of geckos and mussels inspired its development. Geckel is planned for use in the medical, military, industrial and consumer products fields.

HONEY BEE MYSTERY

Researchers were on the lookout for a mysterious honeybee killer in the United States. The vanishing syndrome, labeled colony collapse disorder (CCD), caused bees to abandon their hives and to disappear entirely. A genetic analysis of the affected bees revealed a link between CCD and Israeli acute paralysis virus (IAPV), which causes shivering wings, paralysis and death in bees.

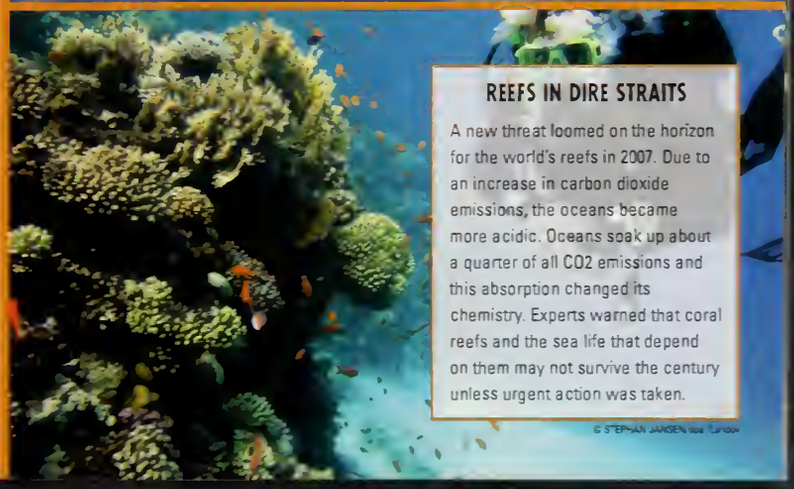
ENDANGERED NO LONGER

After a four-decade struggle to avoid extinction, the American bald eagle was officially removed from the endangered species list on June 28, 2007. The eagle population rose in 2007 to an estimated 10,000 mated pairs, compared with 417 eagles documented in 1963. Bald eagles continued to be protected by state statutes, the Migratory Bird Treaty Act and the Bald and Golden Eagle Act.



REEFS IN DIRE STRAITS

A new threat loomed on the horizon for the world's reefs in 2007. Due to an increase in carbon dioxide emissions, the oceans became more acidic. Oceans soak up about a quarter of all CO_2 emissions and this absorption changed its chemistry. Experts warned that coral reefs and the sea life that depend on them may not survive the century unless urgent action was taken.

TECH TOPICS

SUBTITLE GLASSES

Thanks to researchers at Madrid's Carlos III University, people with hearing impairments enjoyed going to the movies. The prototype for Subtitle Glasses included a mini-display that hangs over the right lens of the glasses to pick up the text that is wirelessly transmitted to it. The text is carefully timed to follow along with the movie, so that all moviegoers could enjoy the show.

VIRTUAL CITY VISIT

Google, the world's dominant search company, brought remote city streets into our homes with Google Maps' Street View. The map feature offered 360° panoramas of major cities such as New York, San Francisco and Chicago via the Web. City buildings, neighborhoods and landmarks across the United States became accessible for users who went to maps.google.com for a virtual stroll.

RISE AND SHINE

Inventors Eoin McNally and Ian Walton decided that an alarm clock was a completely unpleasant way to wake up in the morning. Instead, they created the glo Pillow. The pillow was embedded with a grid of LEDs below its surface and used the gradual increase of light as a wake-up call. The programmable foam pillow simulated a sunrise to naturally wake people up and ease them into the day.

LET IT SNOW

Northern Tibet saw its first snowfall in 2007 through the work of the Tibet Meteorological Bureau. The Chinese bureau injected clouds with silver iodide particles to create the successful half-inch (1.3 cm) of artificial snow that fell in Tibet, about 4,500 meters above sea level. The snow experiment was a response to warnings of melting glaciers and drought in the Himalayan region.

VACCINE BLOCKS BIRD FLU

The Food and Drug Administration approved the first bird flu vaccine and announced plans to stockpile it for emergency use during a crisis. The FDA's approval of the vaccine came at a critical time for preparations. In 2007, the H5N1 strain of the bird flu affected seven countries and prompted experts to warn of a pandemic if the virus gained the ability to transfer from human to human.

FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF SPUTNIK

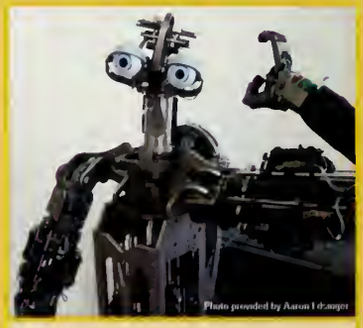
The world's first artificial satellite was launched into space on October 4, 1957, and it signified the start of the Great Space Race. NASA Administrator Michael Griffin said, "The Sputnik accomplishment by the Russian people was responsible for the creation of the American space program." Fifty years later, Russians celebrated the Sputnik anniversary by leaving flowers at the tomb of Sergei Korolyov, the visionary behind the Sputnik launch and the father of the Soviet space program.

BOOKS "TO GO"

After several years in development, the Espresso book machine was released in 2007. The $50,000 Espresso machine printed a 300-page paperback on demand, complete with cover, in just three minutes for a cost of only a few dollars. There were initially 2.5 million books available for printing, which the machine can make in any language. The machine's creators, On Demand Books, predicted that eventually the book vending machine will have an infinite library available, due to its partnerships with Google and Open Content Alliance.

FORD SYNCS UP

Ford and Microsoft joined forces to create Sync, a new automotive electronics system. Sync linked Bluetooth-enabled mobile phones, wireless and USB-based devices into a car audio system. The main appeal of Sync was that it could be controlled by buttons on the steering wheel or by verbal commands to read and write text messages, as well as access tracks of music by artist, title, and genre information. Sync was an available option for 12 of the 2008 Ford, Lincoln or Mercury models, and a planned option for all 2009 models.



NEW AGE MR. ROBOTO

After nearly three years of work, MIT researchers finalized Domo, their robotic creation. Domo was a new breed of robot designed to assist humans with daily living. Using its computerized, human-looking eyeballs, Domo performed tasks that included identifying objects, reaching for items and placing them on shelves. Domo was equipped with a speech recognition system and the ability to sense touch, which made it an ideal helper for the elderly or mobility-impaired.

TEST PREDICTS ALZHEIMER'S

Stanford University researchers developed a new blood test that could potentially diagnose Alzheimer's disease by identifying 18 distinctive proteins that appear with consistency in the blood of Alzheimer's patients. The test demonstrated remarkable potential for predicting which patients with mild memory loss were at high risk for developing the disease. As of 2008, it was estimated that 250,000 Alzheimer's cases went undiagnosed each year in North America.

SWITCHED BLOOD TYPE

In the first known case of its type worldwide, an Australian girl spontaneously switched blood types and adopted her organ donor's immune system. Before her successful liver transplant, 9-year-old Demi-Lee Brennan was seriously ill. Nine months after the transplant, her blood type changed to match her donor's type when stem cells migrated from her new liver to her bone marrow. Despite the unusual nature of her recovery, Demi-Lee's health returned.

LAPTOPS FOR ALL

Nicholas Negroponte of the MIT Media Lab developed a computer that was attainable for the masses. For $150, a person could purchase the XO Laptop. Although the XO Laptop was not the most powerful computer made, the stripped-down machine was a good option for developing nations and for low-income areas within the United States. The low price encouraged governments to buy in bulk and it made a home computer a reality for many.

ULTIMATE HELIUM EXPERIMENT

Kent Couch of Bend, Ore., fulfilled his childhood dream when he floated 193 miles, from Oregon to Idaho, on a lawn chair with 105 helium balloons attached. Couch's flying lawn chair was equipped with a GPS system that also measured altitude and speed. After nine hours in the air and reaching an altitude of 15,500 feet, Couch popped enough balloons to safely land his "aircraft" on stable ground.

A LIFE-SAVING MISTAKE

Fifty years ago, Wilson Greatbatch made a small error while testing a device that was intended to record heart sounds. The mistake led to Greatbatch's improvement on the pacemaker design—the first implantable pacemaker. Prior to Greatbatch's accidental discovery, pacemakers were the size of a TV set and painful to use. Wilson Greatbatch's pacemaker was named one of the top ten greatest engineering contributions to society by the National Society of Professional Engineers.

AWAKENING HOPE

A trial treatment for brain injuries offered hope for trauma patients. A gentle current of electricity was delivered by an implanted deep-brain simulator (DBS) to the injured brain of a 31-year-old male patient, and it successfully roused him from six years spent in a semi-conscious state. The electric treatment provided scientists with the insight to analyze brain activity and further develop methods for reconnecting unconscious patients with the world.

Wii ARE FIT

Nintendo's Wii video game console helped get gamers off the couch. With the release of the Wii Fit, gamers were given their daily exercise too. The Wii Fit used a variety of games and a weight-and-balance-sensing board to make exercise a fun routine. The Balance Board could do everything from analyze the user's posture to correct poor yoga poses.

INVENTION OF THE YEAR

According to Time magazine, Apple's iPhone was 2007's Invention of the Year. The magazine bestowed its honor on Apple's cell phone because it was the first handheld computer to function as a mobile phone with an innovative touchscreen. In addition, the iPhone featured the stylish design and ease-of-use that consumers have come to expect from the Apple brand.

SUPERJUMBO JET

At long last, the Airbus A380 took its inaugural flight from Singapore to Sydney for Singapore Airlines. The A380 was the largest jetliner ever built and it boasted two passenger decks; 12 first class suites with actual beds; and regular seats with power plugs and personal video screens. Several passengers paid over $100,000 to become a part of history on the A380's maiden voyage.

THE SCOREBOARD

TIGER TRIUMPHS

For the second year in a row, Woods claimed seven titles in a single season; he also secured golf's first-ever FedEx Cup and its $10 million bonus. The Golf Writers Association of America named Tiger its 2007 player of the year—an award that he won a record nine times within eleven years. Tiger Woods surpassed Arnold Palmer to move into fourth place for the most PGA tour victories, with 63 wins.

TEXAS BASKETBALL DYNASTY

The San Antonio Spurs have earned a place among basketball's elite. After sweeping the Cleveland Cavaliers 83-82 in Game Four of the NBA Finals, the Spurs added their third title in five years and their fourth in the last nine seasons. The Spurs joined the Boston Celtics, Los Angeles Lakers and Chicago Bulls as the only teams in NBA history to win four titles. Tony Parker, who averaged 24.5 points, was the first NBA player from Europe to be honored as MVP.

UNSTOPPABLE HENIN

After the longest three-set final in tournament history, Justine Henin rallied past Maria Sharapova to win the Sony Ericsson Championships and claim her 10th title of 2007. Henin was named Women's World Champion for the second year in a row, in addition to her 2003 title. She won two Grand Slam titles, Roland Garros and the U.S. Open, and she became the first woman to earn more than $5 million in a single year.

BOSTON'S BIG WIN

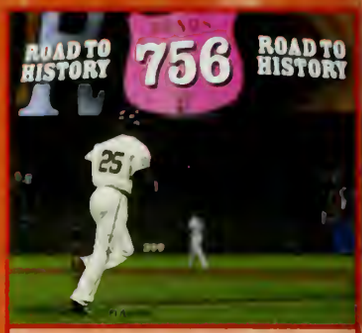
In 2004, the Boston Red Sox earned a long-overdue World Series title. After a 4-3 victory over the Colorado Rockies in Game 4, the Sox became Major League Baseball champions for the second time in four seasons. The win became a certainty when pitching powerhouse Jonathan Papelbon struck out Seth Smith to seal the 2007 World Series title for Boston.

PHOENIX RISING

The Phoenix Mercury seemed to do the impossible in the 2007 WNBA Finals. For the first time ever, they won a WNBA championship on another team's home court. The Phoenix beat defending champions, the Detroit Shock, with a 108-92 win. Phoenix's "big three"—MVP Cappie Pondexter, Diana Taurasi and Penny Taylor brought home the title for a franchise that had not been to the playoffs since 2000.

A GIANT UPSET

Super Bowl MVP Eli Manning threw two touchdown passes to lead the New York Giants to a 17-14 victory over the previously undefeated (18-0) New England Patriots. Giants wide receiver David Tyree amazed spectators with an outstanding catch that paved the way for the game-winning touchdown. With a record 97.5 million viewers, Super Bowl XLII was the most-watched Super Bowl match-up in sports history.



BONDS BEATS RECORD

Barry Bonds of the San Francisco Giants made headlines when he broke Hank Aaron's 33-year reign over the home run record with run No. 756 in the 5th inning against the Washington Nationals. Bonds achieved the record-breaking run by hitting the 84-mph fastball 435 feet into the right-center field seats. Major League Baseball Commissioner Bud Selig said, "While the issues which have swirled around this record will continue to work themselves toward resolution, today is a day for congratulations on a truly remarkable achievement."

WINTER X GAMES 12

Shaun White scored his 12th Winter X medal in Aspen, Colo., with a gold medal win in the games' finale event, the Snowboard SuperPipe. Aspen's Gretchen Bleiler won the gold medal for the women's Snowboard SuperPipe event. Snowboarder Nate Holland grabbed his third consecutive gold, while Lindsey Jacobellis claimed her first X gold in three years. Also noteworthy was snowmobiler Levi LaVallee's triple gold medal wins.

SOCCER GREATS

The world's top male and female soccer players for 2007 were named by FIFA, and both players hail from Brazil. AC Milan's Kaká became the fifth Brazilian to be named FIFA World Player of the Year. The midfielder also was honored as Europe's top player for 2007. For the women, Marta Vieira da Silva captured her second consecutive World Player of the Year title. She helped the Brazilian team compete in the FIFA Women's World Cup in China.

JOHNSON IS THE MASTER

Zach Johnson, from Cedar Rapids, IA, won the Masters title with a two-shot victory at the 2007 tournament in Augusta, Ga. It was the 31-year-old's first Major tournament victory and only his third tournament win overall. Johnson finished the season with nearly $4 million in earnings.

DUCKS CAPTURE VICTORY

The Anaheim Ducks waited 14 seasons to win the Stanley Cup. Their 6-2 win over the Ottawa Senators ended the long wait. MVP and Captain Scott Niedermayer led the Ducks to victory, with the help of brother Rob Niedermayer and fellow teammates Teemu Selanne and Chris Pronger. Selanne was the Ducks' leading scorer and Pronger held the only successful penalty-shot goal in Finals history. The Neidermayers were the first brothers since 1983 to win the Cup as teammates.

MAGICAL NIGHT OF MUSIC

Singer Ricky Martin helped to open the 8th annual Latin Grammy Awards ceremony with a splash—he joined the Blue Man Group to perform while playing paint-drenched drums. Later, Martin accepted the award for Male Pop Vocal Album. However, the night belonged to Dominican singer Juan Luis Guerra, who won five awards and was honored with the prestigious Person of the Year award.

STARS SHINE AT AMERICAN MUSIC AWARDS

For the second year in a row, the stars of American Idol won big at the American Music Awards in Los Angeles. Newcomer Chris Daughtry reeled in multiple awards for Favorite Pop/Rock Album, Favorite Adult Contemporary Artist and Favorite Breakthrough Artist. Fellow Idol crooner Carrie Underwood was awarded Favorite Country Female Artist and Favorite Country Album for Some Hearts. For the Soul/Rhythm & Blues category, Rihanna won Favorite Female Artist and Akon was named Favorite Male Artist.

SOPRANOS HIT HIGH NOTE

HBO's hit show, The Sopranos, went out with a bang in its final season by winning the Emmy for Best Drama Series, as well as awards for Outstanding Writing and Outstanding Director. NBC also fared well at the 59th Emmy Awards—the network took home seven awards including 30 Rock's Emmy for Best Comedy Series. Sally Field won Best Actress in a Drama Series for ABC's Brothers & Sisters and America Ferrera won Best Actress in a Comedy Series for Ugly Betty.

POWER TO THE PEOPLE

The 34th annual People's Choice Awards festivities were also called off due to the Hollywood writers strike, but the winners were still selected and announced. Pirates of the Caribbean: At World's End won awards for Favorite Movie and Favorite Threequel. The award for Favorite New TV Comedy went to Samantha Who?, Gwen Stefani and Justin Timberlake each won for the Favorite Female Singer and Favorite Male Singer categories.

I was the very first American Idol winner and my hometown is Burleson, TX.

SIMPSONS HIT THE BIG SCREEN

After nearly a decade of movie buzz, The Simpsons Movie hit theatres with a bang in July. The animated film was credited with the biggest debut ever for a television cartoon adaptation. Although the FOX television series was in its 18th season when the movie premiered, the film attracted even more viewers.

MORE THAN MEETS THE EYE

Transformers, the 1984 hit cartoon series, was reborn on the big screen. The movie attracted plenty of new fans, as well as the now-grown children of the 1980s. Steven Spielberg helped to bring the transforming robots to life as the film's executive producer, and it earned $700 million at the box office worldwide.

NYC TAXIS GO GREEN

New York City Mayor Michael Bloomberg announced that the city's taxis will be completely hybrid within five years. The city has already tested nearly 400 fuel-efficient hybrid taxi cabs. Under Bloomberg's plan, the number of hybrid taxis would increase each year until 2012, when every taxi will be hybrid.

FAREWELL TO FAMED DAREDEVIL

In 2007, the world said goodbye to a man who took danger to epic heights—Evel Knievel passed away at the age of 69 in Clearwater, Fla. One of Knievel's best-known and most terrifying stunts involved vaulting his motorcycle 151 feet over the fountains of Las Vegas' Caesars Palace in 1967. Throughout his career, it was estimated that Knievel performed hundreds of hair-raising motorcycle stunts and underwent as many as 15 major surgeries to repair his broken bones.
